

Figure S4. Number of target genes associated with functional and non-functional motif positions. Variable motif positions considered in the analysis have, on average, ~35 target genes, and functional variants do not have a significantly different number of target genes than do non-functional variants ($p=0.4$).

